

Description

“Athenian amphora. Antimenes Painter. Depicting Heracles fighting with the Nemean lion in the presence of Athena and Iolaus and Dionysus with maenads and satyrs.. From the site of Camarina, Ragusa, Sicily, Italy. Classical Age. Second half of 6th century BC. In the collection of the Museo Archeologico Ibleo di Ragusa. Processed in Reality Capture from 882 images. GDH ID and Catalog No. R.74 T.497 5789

Citation:

We want to publicly acknowledge the collaboration of the “Soprintendenza per i Beni Culturali ed Ambientali di Ragusa” and the “Parco Archeologico di Kamarina e Cava d’Ispica”. Our most sincere thanks to General CC, retired, Renato Scuzzarello, the archaeologist Dr. Saverio Scerra, the architect Giorgio Battaglia, the restorer Stefania Patti Occhipinti and the archaeologists Veronica Falcone and Alessandra D'Izzia, the custodians of Parco Archeologico Marco Giardina, Giovanna Brugaletta e Rosario Licitra

Specifications

Country: Italy
Region: Sicily
Site: Kamarina Regional Archaeological Museum
Age: Antiquity
Catalog number: R.74 T.497 5789
Photos / scans number: 882
Model URL: https://gdh.org/model/athenian-amphora-by-antimenes-camarina-sicily/