

Description

Yulee Sugar Mill Ruins located in Homosassa, Florida is managed by the Florida Park Service. This mill, owned by David Levy Yulee, is one of the best preserved examples of 19th century sugar mills in the state. The mill remains seen today are only a small portion of what was once a 5000 acre plantation situated along the Homosassa River. The mill operated between 1851 and 1864, and was a supplier of sugar and other products to Confederate troops during the American Civil War.
