

Description

A camel and rider on the left, and on the right, and faint and much older image that is often associated with the Bronze Age. May be a form of ax very similar in design to the Bronze Age carvings at Wadi Helo.

Al Mudaifi is an archaeological site on a small hill on the north end of the town of Khor Fakkan on the east coast of Sharjah, UAE. It consists of a large number of petroglyphs that span the periods from the Neolithic to the 19th century. GDH ID 17

This project was done as a collaboration between the Sharjah Archaeology Authority and Global Digital Heritage.
